Rally and Press Conference for Salary Parity for Early Childhood Educators

To Provide High Quality Early Care and Education,
All Staff in Early Childhood Programs Deserve a Fair Wage.

Join us at City Hall to Call for Salary Parity for the Early Childhood Workforce!

WHEN: Wednesday April 11th at Noon

WHERE: Steps of City Hall

WHO: Early childhood educators, parents, children, elected officials and advocates from the Campaign for Children.

All NYC's Children Deserve High Quality Early Childhood Education Programs

- After 15 years working in a community-based organization an early childhood educator will make approximately $40,000 less than a teacher with the same level of experience in a public school.
- The City must take immediate action to achieve salary parity for the early childhood workforce.
